How might rising interest rates affect your mortgage?

The Bank of England has raised interest rates which means bigger mortgage bills for some homeowners.

At the start of February 2022, the Bank of England raised interest rates for the second time in three months from 0.25% to 0.50% to combat soaring inflation. This move will have a knock-on effect as mortgage lenders raise interest rates in response, which will increase monthly payments for some borrowers.

What does a rise in interest rates mean for your mortgage?

Anyone without a fixed-rate mortgage is likely to see their borrowing costs rise, although how they are affected will depend on the type of product they have. Your adviser can help you assess your mortgage deal and figure out ways to make some much needed savings.

- Only borrowers with a mortgage that moves up or down with the base rate will be affected by the interest rate change.
- This includes tracker mortgages and standard variable rate mortgages (which you revert to when a mortgage deal ends).

Fixed-rate mortgages

Most mortgage holders are on fixed-rate deals so won't see any change in their monthly payments. This is because the interest rate you pay stays the same for the length of the mortgage deal.

Standard variable rate mortgages

You will usually be moved on to a standard variable rate when your existing tracker or fixed rate mortgage deal ends. For example, if you take out a two-year fixed deal and you don't remortgage, you will be moved to the lender's standard variable rate. The rate is likely to be considerably higher than what you were paying before, so your monthly payments will increase, and lenders can raise the standard variable rate whenever they want.

Tracker mortgages

Homeowners with a tracker mortgage will find that their interest rate payments will now go up, but when this happens will depend on their lender. Tracker mortgages are a type of variable rate mortgage that follow the Bank of England's interest rate. So, when official interest rates go up, the rate on your tracker will rise as well.

As a rule, they do not exactly match the base rate, but are set a level just above it. For example, if the lender's rate is the base rate +1%, the interest you'd pay in total on your loan would be 1.5%.

Whatever type of mortgage you have, we can advise you about how the interest rate rise might affect you and address any questions or concerns you have.

How to save on your mortgage costs

The best thing you can do is to speak to your financial adviser. For example, if you're on a tracker mortgage, they will be able to advise whether changing to a fixed-term deal to protect yourself from any further rises is a good idea. They will also let you know about the fees involved when making changes to your mortgage. If you are on a standard variable rate you can switch at any time, so with interest rates rising, your adviser can help you look at available fixed-rate deals.

Homeowners on fixed deals don't have to worry about their mortgage going up until their current term ends. Most lenders will let you lock into a new deal six months before the current one ends so it's a good idea to plan.

How does a remortgage work?

A remortgage could help you save money if you weigh up the fees involved with the savings you could make. Here's how it works.

A remortgage is the process of moving your home's existing mortgage to one with a new lender.

People remortgage for many different reasons, including:

- Finding a better deal elsewhere – you might be on a standard variable rate (SVR) and want to move to a fixed-term rate.
- Coming to the end of a fixed-term deal on your current mortgage and wanting to lock in a lower rate with a new lender.
- The loan-to-value on the home is lower (as more of the mortgage has been repaid).
- Wanting to get ahead of a rise in interest rates, which would affect mortgage rates.

How a remortgage could help you save

One of the big reasons people remortgage is to save money on their monthly payments. If you're on a standard variable rate that is higher than the fixed-rate deals currently available, you could save by switching – either to a fixed-rate mortgage or one that 'tracks' the Bank of England's base rate.

If your home has gone up in value and you've paid off enough of your mortgage to give you a lower loan-to-value, it means you own more of your home and have less to pay off. Remortgaging could result in lower monthly mortgage payments because you're paying off less of a loan amount (and in turn, less interest on it too).

How long does the remortgage application take?

The process can take between four to eight weeks from the time you apply so it's good to start planning early. If you're coming to the end of a fixed-rate or tracker term, your lender should tell you that your mortgage will move onto their standard variable rate<sup>1</sup>. This could be an ideal time to move if you find a better deal elsewhere, or you may even find an attractive deal with the same lender and go through a 'product transfer' (see box).

How much does a remortgage cost?

Existing lender fees

Your existing lender could charge you a fee if you're leaving them early into a fixed period in your mortgage. This is known as an 'early repayment charge' and could be in the range of 1% to 5% of your outstanding mortgage balance. They will also charge you an 'exit' fee of around £50 to £100 to cover their administration costs.

New lender fees

Your new lender could charge you a range of fees, so before you commit it's important to check what you will pay. This will help you calculate whether a move is financially beneficial overall.

Their fees could include:

- Application fee to set up your new mortgage. Could also be called an 'arrangement', 'product' or 'booking' fee. This could be around £1,000.
- Valuation and conveyancing fees. Some providers won't charge for these, but it's worth checking if you are moving to a new lender.
- Solicitor's fee covering the legal paperwork to do with managing the transfer of your mortgage.

Is a remortgage right for you?

Whether or not you remortgage all depends on your situation and the type of mortgage plan you're currently on. You may want a mortgage that lets you make overpayments, or you could be coming to the end of your current deal's fixed term and think the lender's SVR will be too high. One of the most important things you can do before you decide is gather your current mortgage paperwork, look at the fees and get some expert advice on your next steps.

What about product transfers?

If your mortgage is coming to its maturity date but you'd prefer to stay with your current lender, you could consider a product transfer. Switching to a new mortgage product with the same lender could save you money and time. Our financial advisers can help guide you through choosing the right product to make it worthwhile and explain the logistics of transferring your mortgage product.

Stamp duty and land tax

What you need to know

Following the lowering of the stamp duty threshold to £250,000 in July, the rate will drop further in October for buyers in England and Northern Ireland.

Stamp duty land tax applies to increasing portions of a property's price, starting at £40,000. There are different rates depending on how much you are paying for the property, whether you're a first-time buyer, where you live, and where the property is located within the UK. It's good to be aware of how much – if any – stamp duty you will pay, whether you're a first-time buyer, second homeowner, buy-to-let owner or in another situation.

Stamp duty bands from 1 October 2021

In England and Northern Ireland, as of 1 October 2021, you will pay stamp duty on a residential property's sale price over the first £125,000 (from 1 July 2021 up until 30 September, it was the first £250,000).

Property purchase price range	Stamp duty to be paid
Up to £125,000	0%
£125,001 - £250,000	2%
£250,001 - £925,000	5%
£925,001 - £1.5 million	10%
Over £1.5 million	12%

For example, if you buy a house for £295,000, the stamp duty will apply as follows:

- 0% on the first £125,000. You pay: £0
- 2% on the next £125,000. You pay: £2,500
- 5% on the final £45,000. You pay: £2,250
- Your total stamp duty: £4,750.

Whether you are a first-time buyer, moving home or looking for a second home or buy-to-let, our advisers are here to help you through your journey.

First-time buyers

If you're a first-time buyer in England or Northern Ireland, it means you are about to buy your first main residential home and have never owned a freehold or leasehold on a property before (in or out of the UK):

- You will pay no stamp duty on the first £300,000 of your new home.
- Then, you will pay 5% on anything from £300,001 to £500,000.
- If your property price is above £500,000, the stamp duty from the rates paid by non-first-time buyers applies.

Second homes and buy-to-let properties

For those who are in the market for a second property, whether it's a buy-to-let or a second home, they will pay an additional 3% in stamp duty on top of those existing rate levels.

When is stamp duty not required?

There are some situations when you may not need to consider stamp duty. For example:

- When no money or form of payment is exchanged for a land or property transfer.
- If a property is left to you in a will.
- The property is transferred after a divorce or dissolution of a civil partnership.
- If the property you are buying is freehold costing less than £40,000.

These are a few examples in England and Northern Ireland. Scotland and Wales may have additional exemptions, so it's worth speaking to an adviser in those areas if you are buying a property.

Land and buildings transaction tax Scotland

Buyers in Scotland will pay a land and buildings transaction tax (LBTT) when buying a property, in place of stamp duty.

The Scottish system came into place in 2015, and is set up in a similar tiered tax rate level to that in England:

Property purchase price range	LBTT to be paid
Up to £145,000	0%
£145,001 - £250,000	2%
£250,001 - £325,000	5%
£325,001 - £750,000	10%
Over £750,001	12%

If you are a first-time buyer in Scotland, you are exempt from LBTT for the first £175,000 of your property's sale price:

Property purchase price range	LBTT to be paid
Up to £175,000	0%
£175,001 - £250,000	2%
£250,001 - £325,000	5%
£325,001 - £750,000	10%
Over £750,001	12%

For those in Scotland buying a second home or buy to let property, the additional rate of tax they will pay is 4% on top of the standard rates above.

When is stamp duty not Land transaction tax in Wales

In Wales, the land transaction tax (LTT) took over from stamp duty in 2018.

This means if you are in Wales and buying your main residential home (and do not own any other property) the LTT only comes into effect after the first £180,000 of the property's sale price.

However, a big difference in Wales compared to the rest of the UK is that there are no exemptions for first-time buyers, so the tiered system applies to all types of buyers (whether first-time or not).

For those in Wales buying a second home or buy to let property, the additional rate of tax they will pay is 4% on top of the standard rates below.

Property purchase price range	LTT to be paid
Up to £180,000	0%
£180,001 - £250,000	2%
£250,001 - £400,000	5%
£400,001 - £750,000	10%
£750,001 - £1.5 million	12%
Over £1.5 million

The pros and cons of downsizing

Downsizing could mean lower overheads as well as the extra cash from the sale of your home. But there are factors to consider before you make the decision.

From reducing household bills to boosting retirement savings, there are plenty of reasons why people choose to downsize and move to a smaller property.

It's important to consider interim costs, however, like whether you decide to rent in the area you're thinking of moving to, as the search could take some time. There are also fees to pay when selling your home including stamp duty, survey costs, legal expenses, agents' fees and moving costs. Your adviser will be able to help breakdown these costs for you.

Practical benefits of downsizing

Along with cutting your bills, helping you to pay off debt and putting some money towards your retirement savings goals, downsizing has other benefits too.

The stress of maintaining a larger home might become unmanageable as you grow older – leaving you out of pocket and physically drained too. Moving to a less expensive-to-run, smaller home could make your life simpler, leaving you with more time to do the things you enjoy during your retirement years.

Downsizing and tax

Your financial adviser can guide you through the tax implications for downsizing, like inheritance tax and whether your estate may still be able to benefit from the residence nil rate band (RNRB) even if you have downsized your property before your death. The rules around this are complex and often come with qualifying conditions, however, so it's essential to let your adviser examine your options and potential tax implications beforehand.

If you're considering downsizing, your adviser can expertly guide you through the process, explain your options and ensure you are fully informed throughout the process

Plan ahead when downsizing

It pays to plan ahead for the type of home you need when you're downsizing. Your mortgage adviser can help you do this and ensure you're buying somewhere that's the right size for you, as well as keeping you updated on what your eventual mortgage payment might be. They will also be able to explain the advantages and disadvantages of other options, like moving to a retirement village.

It's an emotional decision too, especially if the home you are selling is where your children grew up and holds happy memories. Talk about it as a family so that you are all clear about the reasons for the move. Thinking about your future and planning what your retirement income and outgoings could be – in your current home compared to a smaller one – is also something your adviser can help with.

Things to think about if you've made the decision to downsize:

- Clear out any clutter before you move and consider selling items (like furniture) you will no longer need.
- Look at your home and assess whether any repairs are needed before you sell. Your mortgage adviser can help you with this.
- Your adviser will also be able to factor in the costs for selling your home and moving to a new one, to help you budget.
- Think about how much space you will need in your new home, for hobbies, work and when guests come to stay.
